

MICROCHIP FORMAT GUIDE

MicrochipHelp.com if you need a difficult or unenrolled microchip traced.

LOOK UP EVERY MICROCHIP IN AHAA, EVEN IF YOU KNOW THE FORMAT. Some microchips are enrolled with companies other than the manufacturer and you can only find that out through AHAA.

IMPORTANT! A very small number of chips are enrolled with PetChip.info which does not participate in the AHAA lookup tool. If you have a chip with no registration, particularly a chip from a small company, look it up in that database. This list is not meant to be comprehensive for overseas. A few overseas chips are listed because they can be confused for US chips.

The chart now indicates if a microchip company does not provide information on unenrolled microchips. If there is no indication either way, assume backtracking information can be provided.

European Chips – We are seeing an increased number of these transponders/microchips

Note, some 939 chips are sold to Mexico. They are listed under 939 above.

If the chip does not begin with a 9, check to see if it is a country code:

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/ISO\_3166-1\_numeric#Current\_codes

If the country code indicates it is European, check both

<http://www.europetnet.com/> and <http://www.petmaxx.com/> (Also check PetLog and Check-A-Chip if UK chip.)

PetMaxx shows the databases for each country. Regardless of what the PetMaxx returns (it is usually negative), look down the page and click on the database listed for the country with that country code and search the number in that database.

Here are additional overseas databases :
